

Demonstration Notice from US Embassy
Thursday, February 10th, 2011

The Embassy is aware that various groups are seeking to arrange protests in Bahrain on 13 and 14 February. We do not have any information at this time indicating that these protests are likely to cause significant disruptions, and are not currently advising extra precautions beyond those listed in our last Demonstration Notice \(Feb. 1\), the Country Specific Information for Bahrain, or the Worldwide Caution. The Embassy will continue to monitor the situation and send out further information as warranted.

Demonstrations take place in Bahrain from time to time in response to world events or local developments. We remind American citizens that even demonstrations intended to be peaceful can turn confrontational and possibly escalate into violence. American citizens are therefore urged to avoid the areas of demonstrations if possible, and to exercise caution if within the vicinity of any demonstrations. American citizens should stay current with media coverage of local events and be aware of their surroundings at all times. Upcoming demonstration information follows:
